NO CONFERENCE WITH R. R. BROTHERHOOD PUT OVER JERSEY CEN-TRAL CASE TO MONDAY. Road After a Week Will Be Operated by the Reading, Which Employs Both Union and Non-Union Men and Deals With Its Employees Direct-Manager Warren's Letter. The chiefs of the various railroad organizations and the delegates from the different divisions of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, who were here to consider the demands of the men, have adjourned until Monday without obtaining a conference with General Manager C. li. Warren. They say that their sole object in coming to New York is to hold such a conference and that what they will do if the conference is not granted will be decided by the men in the five divisions. The chiefs themselves do not talk strike, and the delegates appeared to be without a programme.

Mr. Warren's reply to a letter sent to him by the chiefs on Friday was given out by him yesterday as follows:

"Your statement that our engineers and firemen have made no reply to the company's proposition of Dec. 29 last is correct. If further information is desired by the engineers and firemen to enable them to reach an intelligent conclusion the company's officers have been and are ready at any time to aid com in their efforts to do so. "Does it not seem to you only right and fair to expect our engineers and firemen shall advise the officers of their final decision on these propositions?"

The chiefs sent back a letter that was not made public. Mr. Warren did not get this letter before leaving his office and has nothing to add to his statement.

Though Mr. Warren did not say so, there was a general belief yesterday that he will not see any of the railroad chiefs regarding the demands of the Central employees or confer with any one who is not an employee of the road. The Central is controlled by, and after April 15 is to be run by the Reading, which employs union and non-union men without discrimination and deals with its employees directly. In view of this the employees of the Central would naturally like to meet the management of the Reading company on the basis of a new wage schedule, but the advantage of a strike to secure it is not apparent to them. It has been the custom of the Philadelphia and Reading Company to employ men according to their faithfulness confer with any one who is not an employee to employ men according to their faithfulness and ability, whether they belong to a union and ability, whether they belong to not.

E. E. Clarke, chief of the Order of Railroad Conductors, said yesterday that Mr. Warren had not published the whole of his letter.

"There were certain things in this letter, be said, "which made it necessary for us to send another letter to Mr. Warren."

"Does Mr. Warren accept an invitation to hold a conference?"

"He neither accepts nor declines it," replied Clarke. "There is one point he wants to know about before he decides to go into a conference."

A denial was made yesterday afternoon to know about before he decides to go into a conference."

A denial was made yesterday afternoon on behalf of the officers of the Central to a statement attributed to Chief Clarke that the conductors on the Central have been required to work sixteen and eighteen hours without pay for overtime. The officers of the company say further that the new schedule under which both freight and passenger conductors are now working was referred to by Chief Clarke when it was adopted as the best he had ever seen. By the new wage scale, under which the engineers and firemen have been working since March 1, the payroll or the service has been increased 1) per cent. In preparing the new schedule, the officers say, the company has been actuated by a desire to pay for the actual work done and the time taken up in a day's work and to adjust the different classes of work in an equitable manner.

Yesterday afternoon a large number of additional delegates from the different divisions of the Central came to the Grand Union Hotel and had a conference with Chief Arthur and the other heads of organizations some of them were from divisions which were not represented on Friday, the largest of the new delegations coming from Pennsylvania.

Frank P. Sargent, Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, was asked if the heads of the organizations would recede from the stand they had taken and allow the employees of the road to deal directly with the company. He considered a moment and then said that the heads of the organizations would stand by the position they had taken at the first, which was that any conferences must take place between the heads of the organizations with employees on the one hand and the officers of the company on the other. It was said that the telegraphers' division has voted to give its Executive Committee, consisting of three men, power to act for the telegraphers. After the conference most of the delegates from places outside of New York went home. They will return on Montal Park and that they would give Frank P. Sargent, Chief of the Brotherhood day. The leaders said that they would Mr Warren every opportunity for a favo reply to their communications before decided on what steps would be taken.

CENTRAL CAR REPAIRERS' STRIKE. Officers of the Road Decide to Remove the

Mr. MacBeth said yesterday that he had asked the officers of the American Federation of Labor, who were in charge of the strike, to allow him to treat with the men directly. They refused, saying that they would do everything they could to preven the men returning to work at less than the Buffalo scale of wages. They also said that they would try to call out the men in the other shops to accomplish this end. CUTTING WAGES IN ENGLAND. Miners and Iron Workers Had to Submit Reductions Last Week.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN London, April 6.- The signs that this country has reached the end of a series of fat years of industrial prosperity have alarmed the trade unionists. This week the miners of the Northumberland district had to submit to a reduction of 21 per cent, in their wages. and at Cleveland the iron workers agreed to a reduction of 13% per cent. These startling figures surprise no one who has watched the signs of the times for the last six months. Until recently the number of unemployed trades unionists averaged only 2.5 | er cent. Last November the number of unemployed increased to 3.2 per cent., and the February returns show that 3.9 per cent, were out of work.

The changes in rates of wages are even more tained increases, while 11,036 had to accept reductions in their wages. In January the increases dropped to 8,061 and the decreases rose to 51.631. In February there were 8,342 advances, averaging a shilling and five pence and 211,861 decreases, averaging two shillings and two pence a week. In those trades where automatic arrangements exist regulating fluctuations of prices and wages men have learned to grin and bear bad times, as have the Northumberland miners and the Cleveland iron workers.

AMERICANS ROBBED IN NAPLES. Brigands New Infest the Streets and Public Buildings of That City. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN ROME, April 6 .- Americans who intend to visit Europe this year will do well to give Naples a wide berth until the Neapolitan authorities set their house in order. Brigandage has long been rampant in that vicinity. but until recently the city itself was not unsafe. Now, however, the streets of Naples abound with armed rufflans whose peculiar quarry is foreigners, Englishmen and Americans preferred. The American Consul has a number of such cases now on his hands.

The latest is that of Henry Hutaff, who was maltreated and robbed of $1,400 in a picture gallery in the Palace of Naples, where one would naturally suppose a stranger would be safe from brigands. William Simpkins, another American, was hustled around and robbed of a gold watch and chain in Marina street, in the heart of the city.

The Neapolitans themselves admit that the state of affairs is not altogether satisfactory, and they can scarcely make a pretence of satisfaction when they see that a local paper, in order to move the authorities, publishes daily a list of "acts of brigandage against strangers."

This, he said, was a terrible example made by God and was no doubt a necessary lesson. "If the same thing happens here," he con-

BULLET IN THE BREAST.

The crowd of gamblers who gathered yesterday morning at the bar of the Golden Oar saloon, 122 East 125th street, were discussing the murder of George Prince, who was shot by Gambler Mike McDonald also known as Miles McDonnell, on Dec. 28 last in the Onawa Café. at Park avenue and 125th street, a block away. Thomas F. Dolan, known as Doe Dolan, a Tammany street foreman, joined the crowd. A minute later George Hill entered the barroom. All the gamblers in Harlem knew this, so Hill was a marked man. He was told that he would be "put out of business" before he had a chance to testify.

He had a tolt's revolver in his overcoat pocket when he went into the Golden Oar at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. When he reached the bar he got into the argument over the McDonald case. Suddenly a pistol shot was heard, and Dolan fell to the floor with a bullet in his left breast just beneath the collarbone. A man who was playing shuffle board in the rear room saw Dolan get on his feet after being shot. The crowd of gamblers in front of the bar had knocked Hill down and were kicking him. They said Hill had shot Dolan, and that they had knocked the revolver from his hand. Dolan was helping the crowd to kick Hill when the sluffle-board player ran through the barroom to the street to inform the police, who found Dolan sitting on a chair Hill was lying on the floor unconscious. His face and body were covered with bruises. The revolver was on the end of the bar.

An ambulance was summoned from the Harlem Hospital. Dr. Mooney, who came with it, said that Dolan had been seriously wounded. He was taken to the police station, as he objected to going to the hospital. Hill was revived and also taken to the police station. All of the persons found in the saloon, including the bartender and the Italian bootblack, were put under arrest.

Police Captain Flood pointed to Hill and asked Dolan if that was the man who shot him.

When Hill was asked if he had shot Dolan he answered:

"You've heard him say I didn't."

"But did you?" asked Capt. Flood.

"Well," said Hill, "I don't know. They double-banked me. Six of them came at me at once. I had to do something. I pulled my gun and fired. I was badly mixed up in it."

INSULT IN CUBAN CARTOON.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY AND GEN. WOOD IN A CRUCIFIXION PICTURE.

Senator Platt (Conn.) Pictured as a Roman Soldier Handing Our Terms to the Crucified Cuba Editor and Artist Arrested on Gen. Wood's Order The Convention Meets.

Special Cable Desmatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, April 8. The Discussion published yesterday, Good Friday, a cartoon, based on the Crucifixion. In the centre was a figure representing the Cuban people, crucifled. On one side of the cross was a figure representing President McKin'ny and on the other, one for Governor General Wood, the names being written on them. Senator Plant of Connecticut, dressed as a Roman soldier, was pictured handing to the crucified Cuban the Platt amendment in the form of a sponge at the end of a reed, while the Virgin Mary, representing public opinion, was crying. To-day Governor General Wood ordered the arrest of the editor of the paper, Senor Ceronado, and the artist who drew the cartoen. Senor Castellanos, under the order relating to calumny. The men were delivered on these orders to the Fiscal, who has power, under the law, to punish such offences with penalties ranging from imprisonment from
